WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Every effort is paking by the representatives of the allies here to secure an early settlement of the Venezuelan dispute without sending it to The Hague. In this effort, the Italian and the British ambassadors and the German Minister, Baron Sternberg, are receiving the indorsement of Minister Bowen and the cordial approval of the government of the United States. It is understood that the President, while in no way connected with the negotiations, is personally in favor of an agreement being reached at Washington. This fact, it is believed, will ington. At a joint conference at the British Embassy today, the three most important propositions were discussed at length and the question of the possible reference of the case to The Hague was donsidered. It was considered that the claimant nations will suffer far more than Venezuela, if the Washthat the claimant nations will suffer far more than Venezuela, if the Washington negotiations fail. While Mr. Bowen, in his note rejecting the last proposition of the alles that they receive 20 and the other creditor powers 10 per cent. of the customs receipts at La Guayra and Porto Cabello, stated that Venezuela would assent to the reference of this one point to The Hague, there is a strong probability that weeks would elapse before.

HARRIMAN'S LINES AND ROCK ISLAND

[BY DIRECT WIR E TO THE TIMES.]

N EW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A traffic agreement of more than ordinary scope and importance has been formed between the Harriman transcontinental lines, the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway, and the official announcement of the details is expected from the Rock Island beadquarters very soon. Representatives of the contracting parties say that the arrangetracting parties say that the arrange-ments made will not only be to the mutual advantage, but also of great benefit to the traffic and rate situation west of the Mississippi River. The Rock Island, through its close connec-tion with the Harriman lines, will ob-tain outlets at San Francisco and tain outlets at San Francisco and Northern Pacific points. The Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific by using the Rock Island lines will be able to reach many points in the Northwest and Southwest that they have not reached heretofore, and in some instances the Rock Island will afford the Union Pacific more direct connections with shipping points than it now enjoys.

President W. B. Leeds of the Rock Island is now in the West. A director of the company who pieaded ignorance of traffic agreements early this forenoon communicated with Director Daniel G. Reid in the Rock Island executive offices and subsequently remarked that here was something in the wind. Ex-Judge Moore, who is regarded as the financial head of the group of capitalists now in control of the Rock Island, said that he had no information to impart. The statement was made at the office of Harriman. There is good authority, however, for the assertion that traffic contracts between the Rock Island and the two tween the Rock Island and the two Harriman lines have already been lar, although more extensive in scope, to the contracts existing between the Union Pacific and Chicago and Northwestern and the Union Pacific and St.

Paul lines.' It has been Mr. Harriman's avowed policy for some time to promote community of interest between railroads operating in the tertween railroads operating in the ter-ritory traversed by the railroads, and with which he is identified. He be-lieves in an interchange of traffic and of trackage privileges whenever and wherever such an interchange is fea-sible. The recent traffic contract be-tween the Union Pacific and St. Paul roads was in furtherance of that pol-ley.

The Rock Island and Southern Pacific systems have exchanged business in the Northwest for several months, and the new agreement is described as being an elaboration of the old arrangement. There will also be a trackage agreement between the Rock Island and the Atchison by which each company will use the tracks of the other in central parts of the Southwest. The Rock Island will cease new construction in Atchison territory, as well as in Southern Pacific that probably will result in the Rock Island entering into a contract with the Southern Pacific to use the lines of the Houston and Texas Central between Fort Worth and Galveston. It is probable that nothing definite will be settled regarding the matter for several days, but the indications are that the parties in interest will reach a compact. The Rock Island is understood to be seeking a long-term lease of right to use the tracks of the Houston and Texas Central, reaching from Fort Worth or Dalias, and the terminal facilities of the company in Galveston. If such an agreement is not made, it is possible the Rock Island may be permitted to buy an interest in the Houston and Texas Central which will give the company the right which is sought.

Soon after the Moores obtained control of the Rock Island and had completed the El Paso line they determined to reach Galveston and thereby provide an outlet for their southwestern system. At that time, Harriman received an offer of purchase of the Houston and Texas Central. The negotiations came to naught and the Rock Island put five surveying parties in the field, with instructions to find the best route from Fort Worth to Galveston. As soon as the Harriman interests became satisfied that the Rock Island determined to gain an entry to Galveston, negotiations were opened with a view of granting the Rock Island trackage rights over the Houston and Texas Central.

HOBSON'S RETIREMENT

IS SOUGHT CONDITIONALLY.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.— Admiral
Taylor, chief of the Navigation Buresu, has made the following recommendation to the Secretary of the Navy concerning Capt. Hobson's resignation:

Navy concerning Capt. Hobson's resignation:

"The bureau is reluctant to recommend the acceptance of this officer's resignation, believing that time should be given him to reconsider his decision and make a trial for the new duties at the station to which he has been assigned, that the government may retain the services of an officer whose record has been so brilliant."

Secretary Moody today telegraphed this recommendation to Capt. Hobson, with the statement that the department approved it, and that he transmitted it to him for his consideration. The correspondence attending the tender of resignation was made public. Capt. Hobson gives as a reason for his action the bad condition of his eyes, and closes his letter as follows:
"Upon thus severing my official connection with the mavy, I beg to make the following standing and permanent request: That upon the approach of war of a similar emergency, the President forward to Congress the application I hereby make to be restored to the navy and assigned to active duty during the period of emergency."

The attitude of the construction corps, to which Hobson is attached, is disclosed in this endorsement upon the letter:

"The bureau recommends acceptance."

Johnson, wholesale butchers, committed suicide today by drinking carbolic acid. The boy was playing ball with companions, when he proposed that they run away from home. They demurred, and he then produced a skounce bottle of the polson and said. "It is either a case of run away or end my life with this."

The acid was taken from him and tossed away. Play was resumed, and Johnson recovered the polson and before his young friends could interfere, drank the contents of the bottle and soon died. His people say they cannot explain his action. One theory advanced is that he was disnoclined to go to school, accepted employment as a to school, accepted employment as a wagon driver, and became despondent when his parents commanded him to return to his books.

Practical Meaning of Vote Taken in Assembly.

Laborites Coerce Politicians Info Voting for Coercion.

Wolfe Attacks Belshaw-San Jose Booming Campaign to Cap-ture Capitol.

(ST DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Wripped into line by the fear that if they dared to oppose the dictates of the union laborites they might be branded as the foes of labor, and intimidated by the threats, direct and implied, made by that new element in the Largislature, thirty-algebrases and implied, made by that new element in the Legislature, thirty-eight members of the Assembly today gave to the agitators their first victory. It may not be the entering wedge by which the laborites hope to ultimately rend asunder the present laws of the State, but it was nearly that. Much will depend upon the immediate effect of today's action, for the bearing it will have upon future legislation may be serious. Again, if upon sober thought, members see that they have made an error, today's partial victory for the laborites may be a boomerang, and result in defeating all the more radical legislation which has been proposed by them.

any other measure, no matter how important.

Long before the present session of the Legislature began, it became known that the laborites would introduce a bill intended to restrict the powers of the courts in the matter of issuing injunctions during strikes. The bill which they proposed was carefully drawn in their secret councils, and in order that it might be pushed through by a man of long experience, the representatives of union labor gave it into the keeping of Assemblyman Johnson, he reserving, however, the right to amend it as he saw fit. He did amend it, for when it came before the Judiciary Committee he had inserted a clause which provides "that nothing in this act shall be construed as authorising the use of force, vicilence or intimidation." This was just the amendment that laborites did not want, and when it was announced that such an amendment had been made to the bill, a howl went up from them all want, and when it was announced that such an amendment had been made to the bill, a howl went up from them all over the State and the demand went forth that the amendment be defeated. It was upon that amendment that the greatest contest of the session took place in the Assembly today.

CLASS AGAINST CLASS.

Not since the last bitter senerated.

CLASS AGAINST CLASS.

Not since the last bitter Senatorial fight three years ago has so much feeling been manifested in any proposition as was shown in that today. It was an effort, and a successful effort, to array class against class; it was an appeal to the prejudices of men, and so intense was the struggle that one of the members, and an Alameda man at that, so far forgot himself as to give to Gov. Pardee a direct slap.

The whole contest was as to whether the one word "intimidation" should remain in the bill, and when the matter came up Copus, the Union Labor leader on the floor of the House, submitted an amendment to the amendment which provided that that word be stricken out. With that word eliminated the laborites hope to be able to picket any business house or manufacturing establishment, and to render it impossible for the State courts to enjoin strikers from serving as such pickets, and to thus be free by little.

become a law, it would give the courts a right to construe that term as they

Sturdy old Judge Soward of Sierra answered this in a speech which would have made any other class except the Union Labor outfit blush with shame. He declared that if the Union Labor people were honest in the statement that they did not wish to resort to force of violence, they could not object to the insertion in the bill of the word "intimidation," because if their intentions were proper they would not wish to have the law forbid them from intimidating other workingmen.

"They are simply attempting to legalise a system of boycotting, a sample of which we have here in Sacramento, and which is known to be illegal," said he. "They claim to be lawabiding citizens, but what are they? They are simply trying to introduce a system of flagrant violation of the law without regard for the rights of others."

APPEAL TO ANARCHY.

Assemblyman Howard of Colusa branded the attempt of the Union Labor gang to thus amend the bill as an appeal to anarchy. For half an hour he spoke earnestly, pleading with the lovers of law and order-to vote down the Copus amendment, because it was dangerous not only to the non-union men, but to society and to the nation.

"The very spectacle which is before us here in Sacramento, where men are walking up and down in front of places of business calling those who enter walking up and down in front of places of business cailing those who enter scabs and the like, is a fair sample of what we will have all over the State if this amendment is incorporated in the law," said he.

"Nothing could be more un-American or contrary to the laws of decency, justice and common sense. I have been told that if I made this speech I would be relegated into political oblivion. What could be more intimidating than that, but if by making this speech I incur the enmity of the labor bosses, so be it. I can stand it.

"Before I would seek office by stultifying myself by supporting a principle which I know."

ATTACK ON GOVERNOR. Waish of Oakland, who was elected n a labor district, was the next speakin a labor district, was the next speaker, and his speech created a sensation. No more bitter harangue could well be imagined, for he so far forgot himself as to attack by inference the integrity of the Governor of the State, so great was his anxiety to make good with those who elected him. One of the members from his own county said, while he was speaking, that Walsh did not himself believe what he was arguing, and that he was stuitifying himself, but his manner did not indicate it.

self, but his manner did not indicate it.

Walsh declared that employers of labor used intimidation to a greater degree than did the laboring classes. He asserted that several years ago he had been forced out of a lucrative position by the man who is now Governor, because he had criticised the latter's course during the great railroad strike of 1834. The truth is that while Dr. Pardee was Mayor of Oakland he had displaced a judge of one of the police courts, and Walsh, being a stenographer of the court, was deposed also. Walsh has repeatedly asserted that it was to reach him that Pardee had acted, but a denial of this from the man who is now Governor is unnecessary. He is too big a man for that. Goodrich of Pasadena, amazed at the statements made by Walsh, teclared that any man who would voice such sentiments was not a friend of labor, union or non-union, but was its worst enemy.

JOHNSON'S SCORCHER. A number of others spoke for or

A number of others spoke for or against the Copus amendment, and then Grove L. Johnson delivered the speech of the day. He said:

"As my friend from San Francisco says, they have known what judges have done in the past; that has nothing to do with it. Perhaps you did not have the right judge, perhaps you did not have the right judge, perhaps you did not have the right lawyer, and maybe you did not have a good case, when the judge decided against you. If we cannot trust the courts, the end of all Republican government is near at hand. When we reach that time in the history of the American Republic, that men can freely say, as they have said here today, and elsewhere, that the courts of the country can no longer be trusted, we are nearing the end of the Republic in this country, as in others. I, for one, have faith in the courts. I know the courts make end of the Republic in this country, as in others. I, for one, have faith in the courts. I know the courts make mistakes, because judges are human, but we must trust something, and we must trust the courts, or else we will be relegated to the olden time, when the rule was "let him get who can, and let him keep who may." For one, I believe in law and order. I have faith in the courts.

MAN'S RIGHT TO WORK.

"With the question as to whether these men, who are willing to work to make a living for themselves and their families without belonging to a union, are scabs or running ulcers, I have nothing to say, their acts speak for them. Far be it from me, far be it from any man, to find fault with any other man who is seeking to make an honest living by honest work, I care not what it may be. Far be it from any of us to indorse, either in public or in private, the denunciation of men who are seeking to make a living for themselves and their families, simply because they do not belong to a labor union. MAN'S RIGHT TO WORK.

"I recognize the right of every man to work for himself in his own way, and I deny the right of any man to denounce him as a scab or a running ulcer, when he is simply earning an honest living, by an honest day's work, in pursuance of an honest contract with his employer. And the case ought not to be sustained by such arguments and such denunciation.

"Now it may not be out of place for the members of the Assembly to understand the history of this bill. It was handed to me some weeks prior insted the laborites hope to be able to picket any business house or manufacturing establishment, and to render it impossible for the State courts to enjoin strikers from serving as such pickets, and to thus be free by intimidation to compel non-union men to lasve their employment.

Copus opened the ball by declaring that the Union Labor men did not design to resort to tactics of force or violatics, but if the word "intimidation" were inserted in the bill and it should s affecting labor interests. Those o gentlemen called upon me at my ce, and asked me if I would introduce this bill. I examined it, and found that it was practically the same bill that was before the last session of the Legislature and told them 'yes.' rethe Legislature and told them 'yes,' re-serving the right to myself to amend it, if, upon examination, I found it needed amendment. They were satis-fied with that. I introduced the bill. They were denounced by these men who are now in favor of intimidation, as having done wrong because they had given me the bill to introduce. And I only speak of that that we may un-derstand the relations of the author to the bill.

'The bill came before the Judiciary Committee. The rule of the Judiciary Committee permits only ten minutes to a man in offering his remarks either in a man in offering his remarks either in favor of, or in opposition to a bill.

"When these two men came before the Judiciary Committee without any motion to that effect, they were given one hour and a half to discuss this matter. At that session of the Judiciary Committee, after they had made their remarks, I said to them:

"Are you in favor of force?"

"No, sir."

"Are you in favor of intimidation?"
"No, sir," was the reply, and evry member of the Judiciary Commitery member of the Judiciary Commit-tee that was present at that time will indorse my statement as correct. OBJECT LESSON.

to this Assembly, if it is a confession, afterward there occurred scenes in the afterward there occurred scenes in the city of Sacramento that made my blood boil, and convince me that this bill ought to be amended. I walked down K street in this city in front of the State House Hotel, and the Western Hotel, and I heard men walking up and down in front of that hotel denouncing the proprietor as a scab, stating that the hotel was not a respectable place, warning people not to enter and saying, 'You will be spotted if you enter that hotel, because it is an unfair house.'

or anybody else indorsed it. Do you believe in that? If you do, just let it come home to yourself by attending to your own business, and then have me man walk up and down in front of your place and say that you are a scab, and that he did not want people to patronize you because it is not a respectable place. Well, probably, every member of this Assembly is a Christian, and he would simply say to him, 'Walk into the house and say what you please,' but those who are not Christians would do something not Christians would do something else.

"I then thought, and I would not speak of this, Mr. Speaker, but for the fact that two members of the Judiciary Committee have unintentionally violated the rule of the Judiciary Committee in reference to what goes on mexecutive session, after seeing that it would be wise to put into the bill the proposition that nothing in this act should be construed to authorize force, violence, or intimidation. That is how this amendment comes here.

AGREED TO AMENDMENT.

AGREED TO AMENDMENT. "Subsequently to that, Richard Wis-ler, who, as I stated, represented the Federated Trades of San Francisco Federated Trades of San Francisco and the labor unions of the State, came to me here in my place in the Assembly, and I called my colleague, Mr. Higgins, and the gentleman from Santa Barbara, Mr. Pyle, to witness, because I wanted witnesses to the matter, and he told me, in their presence, that the labor unions were in favor of this amendment, and that they were willing that the amendment should be passed, and wanted the bill passed as amended. Now, gentlemen, that is the authority

He says: "The hasty judgment passed upon the amendment by certain persons, and widely circulated throughout the State, has resulted in a sentiment of opposition, which reflection and analysis show to be entirely unwarranted. The Law and Legislative Committee of the San Francisco Labor Council, to which the bill has been entrusted, and which has been at work upon the measure for over four years." trusted, and which has been at work upon the measure for over four years, has secured the best possible legal advice on the amendment. That advice is uniformly to the same effect, vis., that the amendment does not affect the bill itself in any way, that it does not vitiate or modify the prohibition against the issuance of injunctions in labor disputes, but is merely a specific declaration of the position taken by organized labor, that the bill is not intended to legalize any act now by has secured the best possible legal advice on the amendment. "There is the statement of authorized representatives of the labor unions of representatives of the labor unions of San Francisco that they are satisfied with the amendment, and why should not they be satisfied? Is there any man in this Assembly who dare say he is in favor of intimidation? If so, I would like to see him. Is there any man in the State of California that dare say he is in favor of intimidation? If so, I would like to see him. What is intimidation? The latest dictionary says: 'Intimidation is the act of intimidating,' Intimidation is the act of intimidating, 'Intimidation is the act of intimidating, or the sate of being intimida'ed. Specifically, in law, the use of violence or threats to influence the conduct or compel the consent of another.' Are you in favor of intimidation? Will these gentlemen who have spoken so eloquently in favor of labor be willing to go back to the people in this State and say:

"I voted in favor of threats. I voted in favor of compelling a man to do

"I voted in favor of threats. I voted in favor of compelling a man to do that which he did not want to to do by a threat of personal violence?' and yet, in my judgment, if you vote for the amendment or Mr. Copus, you take that absolute position. Are we in favor of intimidation? If so, vote for the amendment. Did these labor leaders mean what they said when they told us they were not in favor of intimidation? If they did, let us take the bill as they said they were satisfied, as their duly accredited representative said he was satisfied with it.

"Personally, I care nothing about this bill. I have no pride in the bill, I have no pride in any incasure before this Assembly, except to do that which the care if this bill is beaten, I can live under any law that any other man can live under but I am not in favor.

INTIMIDATOR COPUS. Several others spoke, but another climax came when Copus closed the docilmax came when Copus closed the Cobate. He denounced Wisler and MacArthur as traitors to the cause of union labor, and said they would not dare to again raise their heads in union labor ranks. Although he was speaking against the insertion of the word intimidation, he declared that all the votes for and against his amendment, would be recorded and watched, and the men who voted against it would be spotted. He made a volent attack upon all persons who opposed unionism, and declared that the bill would pass as amended, or it would be better that it should not pass at all. This does not settle the bill by any means, for its opponents are already preparing to fight it when it comes back from the printer, and is placed on final passage. The laborites in the lobby are so elated as to be almost insulting to those who voted against them. That the bill will become a law is hardly considered possible, but the contest today has placed on record those who want and those who do not want peaceful and lawful government.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—The famous anti-injunction bill came up in the Assembly on second reading this morning. It is the purpose of the bill to curb the power of the courts in granting writs of injunction in labor troubles.

Several days ago the bill was amended by the Judiciary Committee so as to provide that force, violence or intimidation should not be recorted to in case of strikes.

The union labor people objected to the word "intimidation" and Copus of San Francisco offered an amendment, striking out the word.

Copus said the original bill was designed to prevent a recurrence of the conditions which the Idaho miners' strike developed.

Soward of Sierra declared that if the labor people are against force and violence, as they have professed, they have no valid objection against the word "intimidation," and that when they seek to legalize the boycott they are going too far.

Howard of Colusa, who said he spoke as an American citizen, declared the question to be one which affects the very foundation of the civil government of the State and nation, in that it would provide how far labor unions may go.

Walsh of Alameda was of the opin—

may go.

Waish of Alameda was of the opinion that the insertion of the word intimidation would have the effect of killing the measure.

Copus denounced R. I. Whistler and Walter McArthur, representatives of Union Labor elements in San Fran-

One of Our New Oxfords

Above we illustrate one of the most exquisite styles in women's oxfords ever designed, and now on sale at the Innes store. It comes in patent leather with a high Louis heel, so smart and dressy in form that you can't imagine its picturesque style until you've inspected it yourselves.

Certainly we doubt if you have ever seen an oxford at $3.50 that possessed such supreme beauty and rich style. It's only one of the many new models we're now showing.

mate of the United States. During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds, catarrh and diarrhoea. I had always supposed these affections to be different diseases. For the last ten or fitteen years I have been reading Dr. Hartman's books and have learned from them one thing in particular: That these affections are the same and that they are properly called catarrh.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peruna, I have found it to be the best, if not the only reliable remely for these affections. It has been my stand-by for many years, and I attribute my good health and my extreme old age to this remedy.

"It exactly meets all my requirements. I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine. I believe it to be especially valuable to old people, although I have no doubt it is just as good for the young.—Isaac Brock."

"I am professionally a newspaper correspondent, now 79 years old. I have watched the growing power of the Peruna plant from its incipiency in the little log cabin, through its gradations of success up to the present establishment in Columbus, O., and I conclude that merit brings its full reward.

"Up to a few years ago I felt no need to test its medicinal potency, but lately when my system needed it, your Peruna relieved me of many catarrhal troubles. Some two years ago I weighed 216 pounds, but fell away down to 166 pounds, and besides loss of fiesh I was subject to stomach troubles, indigestion, loss of appetite, insomnia, night sweats, and a foreboding of getting my entire system out of order. During some months I gave Peruna a fair trial, and it rejuvenated my whole system. I feel thankful therefore, for although 79 years old, I feel like a young man."—Major Frank O'Mahoney.

In old age the mucuous membranes become thickened and partly lose their function.

EMPLOYERS ORGANIZE.

TO RESIST ENCROACHMENTS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-AM]
SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) Feb. 3-SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) Feb. 3.—
The master builders, masons, carpenters, painters and plumbers of this city have decided to organize a builders' exchange. The motive is to cope with the trades, unions which have a strong body known as the building trades section of the Trades Assembly, and which fixes the price of labor for their members without reference to the employers. The wages paid carpenters, plumbers, plasterers, masons, lathers and others are so high that building costs an exorbitant price, and the employers are determined to resist further encroachments. The unions have driven non-union labor from this city by boycotting any one who employs them, and this is another grievance as at the present time, the bosses are at the mercy of the unions.

A From out the for banks of re-mote Humboldt county, where they raise good potatoes and big trees, comes a doleful sound. Senator Hubbell of San Bernardino county re-cently read in the Senate an exfract from a Humboldt county paper, for the purpose of showing that our good friends of Northern California are sometimes very bad tempered, when it comes to a discussion of this end of the State. The journal referred to said that "south of the Tehachepi there is an arrogant, inso-bachepi there is an arrogant. achepi there is an arrogant, inso-ent, consumptive colony of Eastern-ra. It is all appetite and lungs. It ces nothing but grab, cough and rab"—and more, to the same effect. Well, now let us see. Twenty-five years ago Southern California was not even a "consumptive colony of tite all right, and the lungs, but it did not do much grabbing, because there was not much in sight for it to grab. This section was then connptuously referred to by Northern lifornians as the "cow counties." the population of the seven southernost counties was 64,371, or 7% per cent. of the population of the State. In 1890 it was 201,352, or 16 2-3 per cent. of the population of the State. Today it is about 350,000, or considerably more than 20 per cent. of the copulation of California, the increase low, as to Humbeldt county. 1880 the population of the county was 15,512, or a little less than 2 per cent, of the population of the State. In 1890 it was 23,469, again a little less than 2 per cent. of the population of the State. In 1900 it was 27,104, still a little less than 2 per cent, of the population of the State, the increase iring the twenty years being about 80 per cent., as compared with 500 per cent. for Southern California. Thus, while Humboldt county reon to the whole State, as re-position to the whole State, as re-gards population, that it occupied in 1880, the seven southernmost counties have improved their position more than 250 per cent, during the

It is not, however, only in popu-lation that Southern California has made remarkable strides. The seven ern counties, usually referred outhern California, produce 95 cent. of the citrus fruits shipped from the State, all the petroleum, and most of the beet sugar. The total the seven southern counties for 1902, including miscellaneous manufacoducts, is conservatively estimated at $80,000,000.

The population of Los Angeles commercial metropolis of Southern California, has grown from 11,311 in 1880 to at least 125,000 tobank clearings in 1902 unted to nearly $250,000,000, an increase of 40 per cent. over the pre-vious year. The buildings erected in the city in 1902 were valued at $9,-States census, Los Angeles made the population of any city in the United States, during the decade, 1890-1900. ANNUAL MIDWINTER NUMBER. here and learn, if not to be "arro gant," at least to be progressiv good-tempered. Come in out of the sensus of opinion that if George C. Perkins were now a candidate for reelection to the United States Senate he would not stand a ghost of a chance. The Senators and Assembly-men of the California Legislature who tumbled over themselves a few days ago to vote Perkins into another Senatorial term are now kicking themselves, figuratively speaking, all over the State Capitol for having n taken in by a gold-brick scheme, and for not knowing a bogus gold brick when they saw it.

Those wobbly statesmen who were responsible for the reelection of the wobbly Senator now perceive their serious blunder—when it is too late. The verbal larruping which they have applied to Mr. Perkins may serve in some degree to relieve their pent-up emotions, but it doesn't mend the folly of returning to the Senate of the United States a man so unreliable, so unfit, so small of mental caliber, so tricky, so insincere and so unworthy of the honor, as George C. Perkins.

Whatever of confidence the people of California may have reposed in Senator Perkins, in the past, has been destroyed by his weak and vacillating and inconsistent course with reference to the Cuban reciprocity question. When this question was before Congress, at the last preced-ing session, Perkins was "agin" reciprocity. When a candidate before the Legislature for reëlection he

What has occurred to change Mr. Perkins's attitude on this important Reciprocity with Cuba, on the basis proposed, would be as injurious to California in 1903 as it would have been in 1902 or in 1901. There has been practically no change in the situation. Without apparent cause, other than his own vacillation, weakness and indecision, Senator Perkins has "flopped," and now, by his own confession, holds views diametrically opposed to those which he held less than one year ago, upon a question which has undergone no change in the All this would be food for laugh ter if it were not a matter of so much seriousness. But it is a serious thing great commonwealth in the foremos legislative body in the world reveals in population during twenty years amounting to nearly 500 per cent.

Such weakness, indecision and incompetency as George C. Perkins has evinced. It is also something to be bers of a State Legislature show themselves to be possessed of so little perspicacity as to thrust upon a men so poorly equipped as is Mr. Perkins the undeserved honor of a reelection.

As to the broad question of a State Legislature's power to instruct the State's representatives in the na-tional legislative body, the logical and rational conclusion would seem to be that United States Senators, who are chosen by State Legislatures, may properly be instructed as to how they shall vote, and should be bound by such instructions, on all questions not involving matters of conscience. etc.. Senators are not justified in re-Legislatures of their States. Instructions of this kind are, in fact, per-fectly legitimate and proper, and no Senator should think of disobeying

The case is different as regards Representatives in Congress. While a Senator represents, or is supposed to represent, his State at large, a memof the lower house is chosen by the electors of his Congress district, and should feel bound to represent, so far as possible, the interests and desires, of his immediate constituency-always keeping steadily in view the broader interests of his State as an entirety, and conforming to the dictates of known public opinion, in the larger sense of the term.

In view of the attitude and probable action of the Legislature, Senator Perkins may be expected to flop back again and redeem his preelection promises by voting against the Cuban reciprocity treaty when it comes up for final action. It is by no means certain. however, that he will not, before that time, execute still another flop; for long prac-tice in flopping has made it easy for the shifty Senator.

The weather for the past few evenings has not been entirely Californian in character, but it might be worse. Read the dispatches from the blizT ET THE TRUTH BE BROUGHT OUT. Is another mistake about to be made regarding the allegation that the bubonic plague exists, or has existed, in the city of San Francisco, to the everlasting injury to the State of California? That is a question that concerns every citizen, and every interest of this great common-

Intelligence reaches The Times that pressure is being brought to bear upon Gov. Pardee, by certain mis-guided San Franciscans, to repeat the mistakes made by the late unlamented Gov. Gage with regard to this matter of bubonic plague—that he is being counseled to take the Gage at-titude, instead of the common-sense attitude of having the most thorough and complete investigation of the whole matter, looking to the publi-cation of all the facts without evasion, reservation, or procrastination It ought to be plain to every man exposition of all the facts regarding the charge that cases of the plague are, or have been, existent in San Francisco, can do that city, or the State no harm, but that an attempt to suppress investigation and cover up the facts may subject California to a rigid quarantine on the part of adjacent States, and the government. Can the Governor and the misguided San Franciscans afford this sort of thing? We doubt it.

very outset of the agitation regarding this bubonic plague matter, is to afford to the health authorities of the government the fullest and freest hand possible in its investigation and the most earnest aid in suppressing the disease if any cases exist. California cannot afford to fight the United States in this matter, even as mitted that one State will make but a sorry show against a combination of all the other States and Territories that will, if necessary, take steps to protect themselves against possible contamination. Let it be clearly understood that The Times is not making any charges regarding Francisco—that is not the point. The point is that the impression—to call it by a mild term —is abroad that there are cases city of San Francisco. It is for us to disprove the charge that the disease is existent there, or, on the other hand, if there are proven to be cases thereof, to proceed with zeal and vigor to do all things needful to give clean bill of health, It then is the manifest duty of the ernmental authorities in securing the fullest investigation of this whole matter. Nothing must be suppresse covered up, or evaded. It pays men. as a business proposition, to be honest, and it will pay the State of California to be likewise. As matters are, California stands today in imminent peril of being quarantined against. Such a condition would be appailing. It would spell ruin to many people, and to many interests. Let us have no more Gage foolishness regarding this uestion, but let those in authority show wisdom, strength, common sense and good judgment by af-fording to the government authorities every facility for getting at the root of the question, does the plague exist in San Francisco? If it does let us stand together and wipe out every trace of the dread disease.

A Santa Ana man has prepared and forwarded to Assemblyman Amerige, a bill to be introduced in the Legislature, providing for creation of a State Board of Parlons, and defining its duties an power. According to the propose act, all pardons shall be granted only by a board of pardons, composed of the Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Attorney General, who shall serve as members of the board without additional com pensation. Only written application for pardons are to be considere lated as a result of the recent action of former Gov. Gage in pardoning criminals as the closing act of his ad ministration, and is designed as neans of taking away the pardoning

This is a sound measure, and should pass. There is no good reason why a criminal serving a term of imprisonment should be set free on the mere say-so of a single individual, even though that individual is the Govof a State, than that a man should be condemned to serve a term of imprisonment without the privi-lege of having his case passed upon by a jury of his peers. There has been altogether too much loose and thoughtless exercise of the pardoning power in this country. Only a few days ago the Governor of one of the Southern States made an offer to the Governor of another Southern State to set free any prisoner of State num ber two confined in the penitentiary of State number one, in return for a similar favor, the object being to set free a young man of good family. Such proceedings as this tend to bring the law of the land into discredit and contempt.

BILL TO FOSTER CRIME.

A When one reads the report of the proceedings of the State Assembly that city and the State of California yes erday he is led to conclude that the laborite demagogues desired to furnish incontrovertible evidence of Legislature, the Governor, the State the correctness of one of the principal contentions of The Times in its discussions of the illegal practices of strikers and boycotters. The Times has claimed that the union law-breakers have depended chiefly upon "force, violence and intimidation" to carry out their endeavors to prevent men from doing business and other men from working. This claim has been disputed by the apologists for the boycotters, who have declared that The Times has misrepresented them. But now the union agitators themselves, through their mouth-pieces at Sacramento, confess that "force, violence and intimidation" are their principal resources, and raise a great howl because these words were amended out of the Anti-Injunction Bill. Of course! The agitators would have to shut up shop and go out of business if they were deprived of their stock-in-trade,

"force, violence and intimidation.".

The purpose of the Anti-Injunction acts. No man who obeys the law of the land is afraid of writs of injunction, and the mere origination of this bill is an acknowledgement that the professional strike-promoters are disposed to break the law. But Assembly seem the strike product of the law of the properties have been thriving as never before. For a year the pretended boycott has been the professional strike-promoters are disposed to break the law. But Assembly seem the law of the properties have been thriving as never before. For a year the pretended boycott has been thriving as never before. For a year the pretended boycott has been thriving as never before. For a year the pretended boycott has been thriving as never before. For a year the pretended boycott has been thriving as never before. For a year the pretended boycott has been thriving as never before. For a year thriving as never before here and the year thriv Bill is to prevent the interference of blyman Grove L. Johnson, to whom serting a clause providing that the courts should not be restrained by the provisions of the act from interfering with acts of "force, violence or intimidation." The professional la-borites insisted that this amendment be stricken from the bill. Acts of "force, violence and intimidation" are just what they don't want the courts to interfere with, and they brought all the pressure of professional and political laboritism to bear upon the Assembly to defeat the amendment. To the shame of the law-making body of California it is recorded that the Assembly voted, 38 to 25, to strike out the word "intimidation" thus virtually giving notice to the law-breakers in labor unions that if this bill becomes a law they may "intimidate" as much as they please without interference from the courts. It does not seem possible that this action will be final and that the bill will pass in such a form: Such legislation would be an affront to the courts, an appeal to the basest elements of society, an encouragement of crime and a menace to life and property in California. It is to be hoped that the Assembly will reconsider its action or that the Senate will refuse to concur. Strong and sensible words were said against the striking-out by Grove L. Johnson and other members of the Assembly yesterday. The protests of the law-abiding people of the State will be heard and may have an effect. The monster may yet be scotched and beheaded. Let honest men speak, and speak promptly. A big government contract for the building of warships has been lost to San Francisco through the bedevilment by the labor unions of that town. But by the lasor unions of that town. But that is but a small portion of the losses that city has sustained owing to that cause—including her self-respect.

It begins to look as if ultimatur would soon be flying in the air,

"HAVING DONE ALL, TO STAND."

It is written in local current hisread, that there are no more prosperou business firms or corporations in the city than those who have had the good fortune to be put under the ban of a boycott by some band of labor agitators. The boycott is such an unpopu lar and illegal institution that any per-son against whom it is aimed at once gains sympathy and support from the public. There could be no more strik-ing illustration of this fact than the remarkable success of the Hughes Bros., whose planing-mill business has been supposed to be boycotted for the past year and a half. Under this incentive the trade of the firm has in creased at such a rate that they no the one they are at present operating. It promises to be the biggest manufacturing enterprise in the city, and the significant thing about it is that not a union man will be employed in it. The so-called boycott of the Hughes

The so-called boycott of the Hughes Bros, was begun in injustice, continued in rascality and has ended in a fizzle. The Millmens' Union has virtually given up the fight. The unionists have become tired of paying their pickets $2.50 to $5 a day for loading. They are weary of seeing their paid agents standing around with their hands in mion long ago. They had the courage, the convictions and the back-bone—so they stood up; and the pub-lic did the rest. After they showed their staying power, the fight was won Their triumph is as complete as any business man could wish. They have won trade, won commercial standing and won popular respect. Their victory shows what can be done by man who will simply stand up—who will do fearless battle for the cause of liberty under the law-who will re fuse to turn his coat talls and flee when some law-breaker cries, "boy-

"Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, hav-ing done all, to stand!"

Some of the Arizona papers are vainly endeavoring to break the force of Senator Bard's strong speech in the Senate, in opposition to the present admission of that Territory as a State. The attempt is futile, because the masterful array of facts contained in Senator Bard's address cannot be successfully controverted. The corporate influences which dominate some of the Arizona papers destroy their independence, nullify their influence, and render their opinions practically valueless ence, nullify their innuence, and ren-der their opinions practically valueless. Senator Bard is to be commended for his frankness and courage in op-position a measure which he could not posing a measure which he could conscientiously support. In maintain-ing this position he was forced to go ing this position he was forced to go counter to strong pressure from sources interested in the passage of the Statehood bill. The future will vindicate the wisdom and the justness of Senator Bard's position. He is a truer and better and more consistent friend of Arizonda than those who are shouting so vociferously for Statehood at any price.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Anyone who has lived in Arisona can appreciate the force of Senator Bard's argument against the admission of the Territories, when he calls attention to the fact "that the large mining corporations get out of paying taxes through the manipulation of county officials and corporate influence." Although every county in the Territory is over-burdened with taxes, up to 5 per cent. yet the rich mines of the Territory pay a very small proportion of their pro rata. One prominent mine in the southern part of the Territory that averages a daily output of sixty-five tons of copper a day, exclusive of gold and silver, pays taxes on an assessed value of $125,000. A more general reunion is also planned, to take place here in June, at which Bishop E. L. Kelly of Lamoni, Iowa, and other prominent men of the church, are expected to be present.

moni, lowa, and other prominent men of the church, are expected to be present.

Considerable new work is pushed by this organization, which, it is claimed, is entirely separate from the Mormons of polygamous belief, and a large number of circulars, setting forth its doctrines, are being sent to ministers, school teachers and more or less prominent men in this community by Elder T. W. Williams, the local missionary. The Mormons proper—the polygamous sect—have started a quiet missionary campaigh here, and have seven workers in the local field, from whose labors have resulted many converts, it is said. They have established themselves in the old Swedish church on Tenth street, near Grand avenue, where services are being held each sunday.

The reorganized church is especially citive in the foreign-missionary field, he latest mission established being in Sew Zealand, which is being contucted, in part, by Elders P. M. Hanson and D. E. Tucker of Los Angeles.

Notwithstanding weather conditions the store is redolent of Spring. Every sunshing day from now on will see the counters crowded. Buying time here isn't set by the calendar, but by the customers' readiness. Money-saving is the rule on almost everything needed for Spring, while masterful merchandising shines out most clearly among the heavier lines-Blankets and Quilts, Suits and Cloaks, Knit Underwear, etc.

Plaid Wool Blankets, size 68x80 inches, Price $3.75 Each - Single Blankets.

Blanket Bargains -- More good news from the blanket section. This time it is sample blankets-bought away below regular prices, and marked for quick selling. There are about 80 pairs in the lot - manufacturers' samples-various les, mostly white; some gray blankets, too; 10 and 11-quarter sizes, and the saving is from 25 to 25 per cent. from regular retail values.

Excellent quality 12-quarter white wool Blankets, fleecy and warm; full size for large beds; blue, pink, yellow and red berders; one of the best values we have offered this season;

Bed Spreads - It isn't often we have an opporstaple lines as Bed Spreads at "Sample Prices." lot is exceptional, both in quality and value. While there are no very fine ones among them, the cheaper sorts are conspicuous by their absence; Marseilles and crochet patterns, hemmed or fringed; at a similar saving to the blankets above mentioned.

Colored Spreads—A special lot of fancy colored spreads—so popular fer iron beds; fast colors; pink, red or blue; 11-quarter size; fringed edges; quality ordinarily sold at $3.50—on sale today and $2.85

Wash Goods—Spiendid new lines of white and colored fabrics right for spring; beautiful mercerized grenadines, effective colors and black, for party dresses—80c and 75c; also white mercerized materials, in Marseilles and pique 35c

The new dress goods are coming in by nearly every train. Many novelties.

Dress Goods-Plain colored all-wool betiste with self corded stripes is among the new materials. Comes in eleven different shadings—light, medium and dark 38 inches wide—a fabric that is excellently adapted for the early spring frocks; bought to sell at 75c per yard—offered as a special at 60e for a few days.

A brand of lining known as "Anthesea silk" has made its appearance. Better than Tafta silk—wears longer, and will not split,

Sateen Petticoats-Beautiful black mercerized sateen petticoats are priced at special figures for a few days. $6,00 sorts at $4.75, the $4.50 and $5.00 line at $3.75, and

Bath Robes-All that's left of the women's wool eiderdown bath robes; solid blue, pink, red and grav. with cords and silk trimmings. Regular $8.50 to $4.50 values. On sale at......$2.85

Children's Dresses-Beautiful longwaisted French effects in lawn and nainsook; 2 to 6 years; $1.50 up. White pique and lawn dresses for boys; also children's white lawn and nainsook dresses, prettily trimmed with tucks and embroidery. Regularly sold $1 00 to $2.50; sale prices 75c to$1.75 is at the Hollenbeck, denies the report that comes from San Francisco to the effect that his company is insolvent, and that the heirs of policy-holders have difficulty in recovering the facts."

There is absolutely no foundation for the statement, said Mr. Oakley last night. "It probably has been standing of the facts."

I wands made the point that Passis and Opposed the Pomona of the Santis Satisfaction in the Santist Church, and a sembler of the Baptist Church, and seemed the sement of the Santisfaction in his own that Smale was afterward a sembler of the Board of Contains when he real his former deciarations and his loyal support; that Smale attend the meetings of the more the general officers of the company of the company is not insolvent, there is his not true that most of the assessment policy-holders of the company are throwing up their policies."

The company is not insolvent, there is no difficulty in the collection of claims by heirs of policy-holders, and his loyal support; that Smale attend the meetings of the more the general officers and that the failed to attend the meetings of the more than the failed to attend that of the convention in his man true that most of the assessment policy-holders of the company are throwing up their policies."

"EL HUTCH'S" CONVICTED CLIENT IS MISSING

MONA FOOLS MARSHAL OGLE.

Sneaks Out of Atterney's Office on Pretext and Leaves Officer No Clew-Unserved Sentence Over Him and

F. E. Scott, the convict in Po-ona's sensational "athletic" club

F. E. Scott, the convict in Pomona's sensational "athletic" club liquor case, is missing, with an unserved sentence over his head and $1000 bond in danger of being forfeited.

Scott escaped from the custody of Town Marshal George W. Ogle in the office of his attorney. E. L. Hutchison ("El Hutch") in the Douglas Building at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and his capture had not been reported up to late last night.

The flight of the central figure has put the notorious Pomona case in a very unusual state, as it seems almost unbelievable that Scott, who is well known, has considerable property interests and a family, would attempt to flee the country to avoid serving thirty days in jail and paying a fine of $100. Still he is now practically a fugitive from justice, though his bond has not been forfeited and collection on it might be doubtful. His absence effectually prevents his attorney from proceeding with a further line of defense planned.

Scott was convicted of illegal liquor inight be doubtild. His absence electrically prevents his attorney from proceeding with a further line of defense planned.

Scott was convicted of illegal liquor selling after a trial at Pomona that attracted wide attention, his counsel, J. V. Hannon of Pomona, assisted by E. L. Hutchison of this city, putting up a stubborn defense. He was sentenced to serve thirty days in the Pomona jall and pay a fine of $100, but an appeal was taken to the Superior Court on allegations of prejudiced court and people, and Scott was free on a $1000 bond signed by two Pomona citizens.

Judge B. N. Smith considered the appeal, and Tuesday morning affirmed the judgment and issued a commitment for the convicted man. On this Marshal Ogle of Pomona immediately took charge of Scott, intending to conduct him to the Pomona jail on the train leaving about 2:20 o'dock. But Scott very evidently had a fearful dread of spending one night in jail, for he asked Ogle to accompany him to the office of Hutchison. "El Hutch' was surprised at the decision in the case, of which he says he had no notice, but on examination of the commitment papers says he told Scott he would have to go with the Marshal unless some further legal scheme could be evolved. Hutchison states that Marshal Ogle had business to transact before leaving the city, and having perfect treat in his prisoner, left him to his own devices at 11:30, the two agreeing to meet at Hutchiron's officer at 2 o'clock, just before train time. When Hutchison started for lunch, Scott, in apparent despair, is said to have remarked that he had a good notion not to return. Hutchison says he urged his client not to break his word with the officer, the lawyer buoying him up with the promise to see Judge Smith about the case during the cross hour. Hutchison called at Department One on his return trip, but found the judge gone for the day, you nothing could be done to forestall Scott's removal.

When Hutchison returned to his office he says he found Scott and Ogle in the room. The liquor seller anxious Scott's removal.

When Hutchison returned to his office he says he found Scott and Ogle in the room. The liquor seller anxiously inquired his doom, and the lawyer declares he told him gently but firmly that he would have to go to fail until hebeas corpus or other proceedings could be brought to bear to get him out. Soon after Scott asked in a loud voice for the key to the toilet room, and, being informed that it was open, he passed through the adjoining room and out into the hall. Ogle waited about ten minutes, and then began to get uneasy, as it was nearing train time. Hutchison says he also was worried, for he suspected something of the kind from Scott's remarks. So the two investigated, but there was no trace of Scott. Hutchison said last evening he had not yet been appie hended.

Hutchison stoutly denies any collusion in the escape of Scott, saying vehremently: "This is the first client of mine ever to play such a sneak trick. I not only advised Scott as strongly as a could against breaking his word, but informed Ogle when he left the room. Now while he is out of custody we can do nothing for him, and the case is effectually tied up. We had expected to ask for a rehearing or a writ of review, and felt sure we would have cleared him in the gnd. I think he will surely appear very soon."

Charles M. Oakley, San Francisco agent of the Mutual Reserve Fund Insurance Company of New York, who is at the Hollenbeck, denies the report that comes from San Francisco to the effect that his company is insolvent, and that the heirs of policyholders have difficulty in recovering the amount of their claims.

"There is absolutely no foundation for the statement," said Mr. Oakley last night. "It probably has been started by some malicious 'knockers' who are endeavoring to injure the standing of the company or to influence business. I have been with one of the New York officers of the company today, and know whereof I speak.

SAN JOSE'S PROPOSITION.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4,—Interest in Senator Oneal's constitutional amendment, providing for the removal of the State Capitol from Sacramento to San State Capitol from Sacramento to San José is increasing, and on account of that fact it is probable that both houses will adjourn Friday morning that the members may be given an opportunity of taking an excursion Friday afternson to the proposed Capitol city. Today Senator Oneal received a telegram from V. A. Scheller, president of the San José Chamber of Commerce, inviting the Governor and the members of the Legislature to visit the city in a special train, which will be provided. The excursionists will be banquoted, driven about the Santa Clara Valley, and given hotel accommodations.

When Oneal first made his proposal to remove the capital of the State to San José his constitutional amendment was largely taken as a jest, but now many of the members openly express an opinion that they believe the measure will be passed in both houses.

Belshaw was placed in an unpleasant predicament in the Senate this afternoon, when the constitutional amendments he had introduced, containing provisions for the placing of Civil Service in all of the San Francisco municipal offices, were defeated after the author of the measure was subjected to considerable criticism. The fact that Mr. Belshaw, who halls from Antioch, introduced the amendments, aroused the ire of Senator Wolfe of Henry Morganti, a rancher living near Guadaloupe, was nearly killed by being dragged over a plowed field in the teeth of a harrow, to which were attached a pair of frightened horses running wildly. On account of weeds accumulating in the harrow he was compelled to stop and clean it, when suddenly a rabbit darted across the field and frightened the horses, which started at a gallop, throwing the unfortunate man squarely under the implement. The only thing that saved him from a horrible death was the fact that the harrow had no teeth in the center row, and after being dragged a short distance he was freed. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The steamer Alameda which arrived here today from Honolulu reports having seen during a storm on the night of January 30 the distress signals of a square-rigger. The Alameda put about in answer to the appeal, but in less than ten minutes after having seen the distress lights, the square-rigger had disappeared, and it is believed sne must have been swallowed up in the sea. It is thought here that the disabled vessel may have been the Fiorine, an American vessel, now out sixty-five days from Tacoma, for Honolulu.

ber, 1901, when fifty of the one hundred employés of the Central-avenue mill inid down their tools and quit work for all time at that shop, Simultaneously, the employés of the Main-street planning mill of Carpenter & Biles also cassed work, and the one hundred strikers, aided by the Millmess Union and other affiliated organizations of the Council of Labor, began a campaign of boycotting, intimidation and other underhand tactics that were expected to force the mill owners to accede to the dictation of the men.

The end of this farcical campaign came Tuesday evening, when the phantom "strike" was practically declared "off."

WORK OF THE PICKETS.

Ever since the strike began a number of pickets have been stationed at each mill, with instructions to follow every load of material that went to the factories, to take the name of the contractors to whom the material was delivered, to note the address of the job, to approach every man who accepted employment at the factories and if possible induce him to leave his work, to intimidate the workmen into quitting, and in every other manner to antagonize the interests of the millowners and if possible to break up their business. So many assaults were made by the strikers at one time that it became necessary to guard the workmen in the mills with Winchesters. Several of the new workmen were beaten and some arrests of strikers were made. WORK OF THE PICKETS.

MEANS TO RAISE REVENUE.

Just now the Finance Committee is leep in the mystery of a new license rdinance that is expected to bring a sufficient revenue to meet the expected shortage of $100,000 at the end of the fineal year. Final determination of the form of the ordinance has not the season of the form of the ordinance has not the season of the form of the ordinance has not the season of the form of the ordinance has not the season of the form of the ordinance has not the season of the form of the ordinance has not the season of the finance Committee have announced hat they do not intend to spend their ime in framing a license ordinance, lines there is some certainty that the Councillance will stand by it when it is nitroduced in the Council.

In Making their estimates, the Finance Committee has taken into conditeration the revenue received from the various clusters of licenses list tear. License revenue for the year anding December 31, 1962, amounted to $24,031.82, of which the liquor interests contributed $144,004. Saloons now any a license of $50 a month, restaunts a liquor license of $130, It is reposed to increase materially the liquor licenses. On this point, a majority of the Councilmen seem agreed.

What increase, if any, should be made on other classes of licenses is the vexton question with which the Finance committee is struggling. The license of the month of population aroused, has been scanned by the committee, in search of valuable suggestions. Some of the licenses imposed by that proposed ordinance were as follows:

Automobiles, $2 per month; astrologra, necromancers, etc., $10 per month; concert halls, $25 per month, or $3 per day; baseball games, where admission is charged, $10 per game; book agents, $2 per month; chowing alleys, $2.50 per alley a month; circus, $600 first day, $400 succeeding days; phonograph parior, $50 per quarter; pumping oil, well, $1 per month; theaters, $75 per month, raised from $25; retail cigar stand, $5 per month; wholesale cigar stand, $5 per month; billiard hall, $2 per month; tamale stand, $5 per month; ostrich farm, $5 per month.

Hoteis will be obliged to pay according to the number of rooms, as follows: Over eighty rooms, $25 per month; over forty rooms, $10; over ten rooms, $11; less than ten rooms, $1 per year.

BLACK CRIME,

Charles Savage, the pimply-faced youth who claimed that he saw Sepulveda murdered in the City Jall tanis, told another alarming story yesterday. He tried to fix a crime on a young tailor named Alien Brown.

Brown is a boy of about 20. He betriended young Savage and was rewarded by having about everything but the wall paper in his room stolen. Yesterday Savage came to trial for burgiary. Evidently out of revenge against young Brown for appearing against him, Savage went on the witness stand and swore that Brown had attempted to perpetrate a horrible and disgusting crime on his person.

In his attempt to fix this crime on Brown, young Savage had to accuse himself of a very dirty piece of blackmail and extortion.

The trouble with Walter is that he can't keep from taking hold of things—other people's things, especially. He has been put in jall so many times that the police got weary of him. This time he was charged with a felony—petty, with a prior conviction.

The charge was that he had stolen an overcoat, having been guilty of petty larceny on three other occasions. He pleaded guilty.

He told the court plously that he was trying to do better. The court told him tartly that his record didn't look that way. The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to appear before the City Council in the interest of a detention hospital, reported yesterday that the Council had promised to take immediate action toward furnishing better arrangements for the liandling of contagious diseases, and also toward better quarters for the City Health Officer.

The chamber accepted an invitation.

Old Gorgon Graham

By the author of Letters from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son. A new series of papers in which Old Man Graham preaches the gospel of good business and tells some of his characteristic stories. This Life Story of a Self-Made Merchant, by George Horace Lorimer, will be one of the features of coming issues of the magazine. The Letters' from a Self-Made Merchant to His Son met with universal favor, and there is every reason to believe that the new series by the same author will be equally popular. In the new series old Graham tells the story of his own business career: how he began life as a farmer's boy, worked his way to the front and became the biggest pork packer in the West.

WIDOW TABOR'S SUIT.

WIDOW TABOR'S SUIT.

DENVER (Colo.) Feb. 4.—A suit for $1,200,000 damages, has been filed in the District Court by Elizabeth B. Tabor, the widow of ex-Senator Tabor, against James W. Newell, Warren F. Page, and the Ransom Leasing Company. The damage, which Mrs. Tabor alleges to have incurred, resulted from a sale on an execution of the Matchless mine, near Leadville, which belonged to the Tabor Mine and Milling Company. This mine was sold in 1899 for little more than $13,000 to satisfy judgment which the defendants and William H. Harp are said to have held against Tabor. Fraud is alleged against the defendants for its alleged against the defendants for the manner in which they secured possession of the mine.

GUARANTEED BY YOUR DRUGGIST.

It is seldom that a druggist has enough faith in the medicine he sells even when prepared by himself, to be willing to refund the money if it does not cure; but Hyomei has cured so many cases of catarrh that leading druggists everywhere effer to refund the money to all who use it and report that they are not satisfied.

Hyomei is the simplest and most convenient remedy for catarrh ever offered to the public. Breathed through an inhaler so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket, for a few minutes four times a day, it will absolutely kill all the germs of catarrh and cure the disease.

Catarrh cannot exist where Hyomei is used. It has a two-fold action, killing all the germs in the air passages and lungs and seothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

Housewife's Exchange

Several members of the Exchange have wroved their right to belong to it by sending directions for knitting bedside slippers. I hope the two given below are in season to be of use to the person asking for them:

Being a constant reader of your page I notice that you desire some one to forward directions to you teaching querist how to make bedroom slippers. ... my directions can benefit her I would be alighted. First, begin with seven stitches, then in the middle stich of every row make three instead of one; this makes the rows always larger and gives a perfect shape to the slipper. Enclosed you will find a small sample which may lighten your difficulty. As you notice, the sample is made of Saxony wool, whereas Germantown wool is far better. Also I begin the slipper at the too instead of the bed. Close the front and you can behold its perfect shape.

TESSIE.

I am holding the "small sample" for the original querist. Will about the state of the sample with the sample of the original querist.

Chain 26. Make single erochet in each chain stitch except the casts, which should have two stitches. Make fifty-six rows, which makes the front; next row, drop the centre stitches, and crochet twenty-news stitches on each side for back. Make fifty-six rows of each. Join in the back and in front at the too.

In the back and in front at the toe.

Make two rows of holes around the top—1 double crochet, chain a, 1 double crochet in 3d stitch, and so one to end of row. Make second sow by putting double crochet in that of preceding row.

Ruche border. Chain 7. Wind wool around finger four times, and make single crochet in first chain. Continue to end of row. Next row all double crochet, third row same as first. Continue until ruche is long enough to ge around. Join and sew on, run ribbon elastic through hales beneath ruche to make ruche alipper fit snugly over the cakle.

W HEN I was South last winter I had the pleasure of partiking of several real Southern dishes. The one given below was always bailed with delight by the merry group gathered around our table for the evening meal. The old edlored "auntie" who queened it over the kitchen was besought to give it to us once every week at least, and as much oftener as she would make it. Her protest, "It do take lots of butter, honey, to make it go good! It do, for such!" was very true.

E. M. E.

The "rections for making "spoon bread," which will be found in the recipe column, remind one of what we used to call in Virgir's "batter bread." But we cut that with a sharp knife held perpendicularly, and used boiled rice instead of small hominy. Both are delicious when made of southern corporate.

IN YOUR "School for Housewives" I see some one asks how to keep a white linen dress in good condition during the winter. One way is given—I will give another that some of the readers may find of use. It is an old-fashioned method. Either use very blue tissue paper to wrap up the garments, or make muslin very blue; dip in blue water made much deeper than needed for weekly washing. Old, thin muslin is just the thing, as the large pieces of gowns, skirts, etc., make large wrapping cloths. This is all that is needed—well-blued and dried—then roll up your dainty white goods, and next year, or many years ahead, the same dainty pure color is there. A few turns of the iron, and there you are!

Packed away in ordinary white tissue paper or cloth, they gradually on a creamy tone that is often desirable and very beautiful.

Another help given me years ago by a Chinaman to keep clothes from moths: Take several packs of common firecrackers—break small bits and scatter in trunks and boxes.

I give these, thinking they may serve others, as they have me, and return for helps I have received from your interesting department.

nteresting letter comes from California. In our school, the East meet together, members from all sections "lending a hand," and hrough mutual helpfulness the blessed truth that the whole rowing, year by year, into kinship. When every human creature its neighbor as himself, we shall have the Millennium.

W III you let me know through your paper how to make cranberry jelly? I have tried several times, but was unable to turn it out of the mould. Will you also give me a recipe for plum pudding?

MRS. J. C.

A recipe for cranberry jelly appears to-day in its proper place. That for an pudding was given two weeks ago. I hope you saw it.

DO LOVE to read the Housewife's Exchange! You help so many that I hope you will be able to help me, too. I am very stout (23 years), and I long to get thin. I don't take a bit of exercise, eat everything, am fond of sweets. I know I shouldn't eat them if I want to get thin. After reading your "Corner" to day I got up immediately and took some exercise. I am worn out! I think I am laxy! I want to get thin, but don't want much work. Will Turkish baths reduce me, and is it proper for a woman to take them! If so, can you tell me of one!

I have always been stout, but am getting immense since my marriage, three years ago. I have a fine baby boy, two years old. Everyone says he is "big and fat, just like his mamma." I hope I haven't tired you with my troubles, but I do want to get thin. Please try and help me!

MRS. M. G. C.

MRS. M. G. C.

Curkish baths are altogether "proper" and desirable for you. They are eften recommended for obesity. It is not sufficient to take exercise for one day, or for twenty days. Of course, you are "tired" after the unwonted exertion! Your weight of flesh is, in itself, a burden, wearying the muscles and shortening the breath. I am not an alarmist, but you are in danger of more serious evils than temporary inconvenience. Excess of adipose tissue (superflows flesh) is an absolute curse to the one who is laden with it. You will be come not only a weariness to yourself, but your usefulness to others will be impaired. An apoplectic habit is a continual threat to the life of the afflicted creature whose manner of living has invited it.

You should not touch sweets, or butter, or cream, potatoes or other starchy feeds, and should not eat fat meats. Make out a suitable dietary and stick to it. Walk every day, no matter how much it tires you. You would do well to learn some system of gymnastic exercises and persevere in them until you have command of your body—whether you lose flesh cr not. If you wish, a will give you the name of a system that has accomplished much good in other cases similar to yours. Avoid quack medicines, warranted to make you lose flesh rapidly. More than one credulous unfortunate has dropped the load of flesh for all time as the result of taking anti-fat nostrums.

WILL you kindly inform me what to do to invigorate the growth of ny palm, which seems at a standstill, ...d the tips of the leaves are turning yellow? It is kept in a warm place.

A FEW FAVORITE RECIPES

SPOON BREAD.

THIS recipe is contributed by "E. M. E.": Four eggs beaten separately; I cup cooked hominy grits, 4 tablespoonfuls of cornmeal, 1 pint of milk, 1 teaspoonful of sugar, 1 teaspoonful of salt, 1 teaspoonful of baking powder, 1 tablespoonful of butter. Bake in a pan until thoroughly done—about half an hour, sometimes longer. Out out with a spoon. Eat hot, with plenty of butter and maple syrup.

CRA "BERRY JELLY. (By Request.)

PICK over and wash a quart of eranberries. Drain off the water and put the wet berries into the inner vessel of a double boiler, filling the outer with lukewarm water. Cover closely. Bring to a boil, and keep this up until the berries are broken to pieces and scalding hot. Strain and press in a cheescoloth bag into a clean saucepan, and left to boiling very quickly. Add a cupful of sugar that has been heated in the oven, take from the fire as soon as the sugar is melted, and when almost cold turn into a mould wet with cold water.

IMITATION EAST INDIAN PRESERVES. (An Old Family Recipe.)

TWO quarts of apples, one cunce of green ginger root that has been scaked all night, then boiled slowly for one hour, and cut into tiny bits; two even cupfuls of sugar, one cupful of cold water. Pare the apples, cut into neat dice less than half an inch square, and throw into cold water to preserve their color. Put the sugar and water into a preserving kettle, and when it boils add the ginger and simmer half an hour. Drain the apples out of the water, throw into boiling syrup and boil until tender and transparent, but not broken

Pears are ver, nice preserved in the same way.

QUICK MOCK TURTLE SOUP.

ET me preface this and other recipes for "made-up" canned soups by a qualifying word. With the editorial dread of a "reading advertisement" in my mind, I am not likely to write here so much as a hint with regard to the style and habitation of the firm which has put soups into the market that leave that housewife without excuse who seldom begins her family dinner with what she considers a "fusay" first course. There may be others as excellent. I speak of those whereof I KNOW.

Yet, a quart can of soup, although strong and savory, does not go far in a family. Expediency has taught me that this may t "doctored" profitably and satisfactorily.

Add four hard-boiled eggs, cut into eighths, a glass of claret (or whatever substitute you use, if you object to wine), the juice of a half a lemon, or a lemon peeled, then sliced thin (this last to be laid on the surface after the soup is dished), a teacupful of boiling v. ter and such additional sale and pepper as your taste adjudges to be needful. If you care to take the trouble, omit the whites of the eggs, pound the yelks into a paste, work in melted butter, a pinch of mustard, pepper and salt, and bind with the yelk of a raw egg. Flour your hands, make the paste into small balls and drop into the boiling soup. Simmer three minutes after they go in.

The Parents' Corne

Bing a young mother, I want to ask you about my little She is seven months old and had always been good be recently taken a great fancy for me, and cries for me, my housework to do, and cannot hold her all the time should I try to do this, or will it injure her in any way to for a while! She has always been quite strong.

Patiently awaiting an answer.

Upon your action at this juncture depend the bahy's comfort and for months to come. It is a provere that an infant who has had as murse than the mother is always a spoiled child. The children of the meated poor are almost invariably unruly and exacting of the mother tention. This fact has been forced upon my notice during district and other rounds of the homes of this class. Where one baby is train lie still in his crib, or, if older, to nit quietly upon the floor, or in a character with the playthings, ten cry to be in the mether's arm at her skirts, demanding notice and care every waking hour.

A c mon complaint is—"It's little work of any kind I can be baby in my arms or at my heels all day long?"

"Cannot he sit alone?" I asked of one haggard little mother, who actually proud to bend under the weight of a fat, lumplah boy.

"Indeed he can?" proudly. "But he'll not be quiet one minute he is out of my arms. He'll scream himself black in the face who put down. It's easier to hold him."

It is hurtful to you and injurious to your baby to dandle her ally. She will grow better and be the healthier for not being held by use If she rebels when you have made her comfortable upon the bed as easy-chair, and given her something to play with, keep Solomon's injuring mind, and let not your soul spare for her crying. She will soon larm this sort of vocal exercise does not gain anything for her and accomb her small ladyship to the situation. By now she should be trained quietly in her crib after she has been put down for her mid-day nap, an injurity slumbers, and to stop crying at other times when you tell her to his and your determination to hold that sway.

FATRER has a question to ask which I refer to others who are ested in the home aquarium. One of the prettiest and most integrated ornaments a house can have, by the way! It is quite possible a certain small fish, eels, newts and the like all winter in an aquarimetry constructed and intelligently managed.

Summer at the seashore may be made a delightful study of a life by means of an aquarium, a net, a pail and rambles at low among the wharves and jettles. My boys, aged 14 and 17, have call many curious fishes and plants about which they experience difficulty in getting practical information. In their behalf, and interest of other boys and girls with similar desires, I write to if there is a handy, practical manual that will tell them the many habits of animal and vegetable life at the New Jersey seasida.

I keep house for my father; he treats me lovely in every gives me a good home, good clothes takes me to the theatre and is passed work and tries to make things pleasant for me. I have falle is with a young man 21 years old. He loves me and he want to many Now, my father does not know anything about this affair of mescapects me to tell him all my little troubles. Do you think it sensible of me to marry, or not?

It is hardly putting the case too strongly to say that not case in thousand times is it "sensible" for a girl of 17 to marry a boy of it you to marry this particular boy who is capable of persuading you and not tempt you to disgrace yourself and break a trusting parent by a runaway marriage would be the extreme of wicked folly.

I marvel, in reading your story of your widowed father's development of the particulars of his best toward you, of whom he "thinks the world," and pass on, unconcented how basely you are repaying his devotion. Either there is an abnormal in your make-up or your best feelings and principles has been fearfully warped by association with your lover.

How has it happened that your father "knows nothing of this of yours! If he stays at home every yvening to "make things pleasant you," where do you meet the accomplies in the evil work of making upon you," where do you meet the accomplies in the evil work of making the wall and die when he learns the depth of your perfidy and ingret You would seem to have as little regard for your reputation as for the ceived father's feelings. All this is low! I cannot attain unto it!

This is rough talk, you say! I can meither speak nor think gentle with the facts in the sad case before me, as you have given them. If I command language that could awaken you to a sense of what you are losing and what misery you are bringing upon your

the center of a greater and richer mining territory than either Denver

angeles had not made more progress in this direction, he said, simply because no systematic effort had been made to bring it to the front. The southwestern Miners' Association had been the work of promoting the mining hadustry in the section, and the exchange was organized not to take the place of the association but to supplement its work. The exchange could give mancial value to mining stocks which the association could not.
Mr. Ford then explained the conservative lines on which the new exchange was organized, and told about the safeguards that have been provided for the protection of investors.
He said the byiaws of the organization have been rigidly drawn, and will be rigidly enforced: they are not merely paper to look at, but are rules which will protect both the investor and the miner. A company must be able to show clear title before it will be allowed to list its stocks on the exchange. It must furnish a report on its property made by a competent mining engineer, as the result of actual surveys and investigation, or submit the property to inspection by enmining engineer, as the result of actual surveys and investigation, or submit the property to inspection by enmining engineer, as the result of actual surveys and investigation, or submit the property to inspection by enmining engineer, as the result of actual surveys and investigation, or submining engineer, as the result of setual surveys and investigation, or submining engineer, as the result of setual surveys and investigation, or submining engineer, as the result of semining engin

Mr. Dilion said the or-zation was not the result of a sud-impulse, but had grown out of a suity. A mining stock exchange, aid, was just as necessary for the essful carrying on of the mining stry as a clearinghouse is to the ting business, and a chamber of merce or a board of trade to mer-dising. of fictitious stock was sold:

M. M. Meyers, Esq., attorney for the exchange, was called on for a speech and responded with two humorous negro-dialect stories, which were loudly applauded.

Caller Morris made a short address in which he told what had been accomplished by other exchanges which he assisted in organizing, natshly the ones at Colorado Springs and at Salt Lake Clis. He said they fild a small volume of business at the start: now their transactions amount to millions annually, and they are recognized factors in the development of the mines of Colorado and Utah. He predicted that the day would come when the Los Angeles Miners' Stock Exchange would rank with the best of them and would outstrip them if properly meanared. Are Lailly played several plane solos and an orchestra also furnished excellent music.

The new exchange starts off with its full limit of forty active members and about sixteen honorary members. The list includes nearly all of the prominent mining men in the Southwest. The price of seats is $100 for all members, active and honorary, and active members pay, in addition, $2 a month. The start is made with $2000 in the treasury. Inexpensive but comfortable quarters have been fitted up at No. 123 South Broadway, where regular daily calls will be held at 10 o'clock a.m., beginning about next Monday. It had been intended to hold the opening call today, but the Listing Committee has not had time to prepare its report on stocks offered, so the first sale has been postponed till the beginning of next week.

Ladies are invited to attend the daily calls, seats having been provided for their special accommodation, and except Thursday (will be "indies" day" on the exchange, when brekers will be required to take off their hats and refrain from smoking.

At the Rose mine, situated some forty miles from Victor, work is at a standstill as snow is six feet, on the level and it is impossible to get the ore out. The owners of this property have been making shipments of high-grade ore to the Selby smelter. Some of the pay rock averages from $200 to $400 to the ton.

The forty-stamp mill at the Gold Mountain mine is also closed down on account of the storms. This property, which is owned by Capt. Del Mar, is a low-grade proposition, and has been a good producer for several years.

In the Great Dry Lake district several large low-grade gold properties have recently been located that give promise of great things. Mining operations on the desert the coming spring will probably reach high-water mark.

OAXACA MINE SOLD.

Special advices from Oaxaca say the great Natividad gold mines near Oaxaca, Mex., have just been soid to eastern capitalists for $1,500,000 gold. The first payment of $100,000 has already been made.

This is the principal finite State of Oaxaca, and has been a heavy producer for some time past. During the last three months of 1900 it produced $000,000, and recent developments have disclosed large bodies of very rich ore. The price paid is considered low.

MACKAY'S GREAT MINES.

Plans are being made for the installing of a concensusting plant at the Grand Reef mine, which belongs to the John W. Mackay estate. This property is located sixty miles north of Wilcox and has over 12,000 feet of work done on it. It is estimated that there is at least $4,000,000 very ore blocked out. The ore is lead and silver.

FREIGHT DEAL FALLS THROUGH The proposed rate of $3.25 a ton on ores from Chloride to the Val Verde smeiter on the Prescott and Eastern road, south of Prescott, has fallen through. The Chloride branch road wanted $2.25 a ton for hauling the ore less than thirty miles, leaving the Santa Fé 90 cents a ton for hauling 187 miles. The rate is back at $5.

CHARLEY CLARK WINS HEAVILY ON OAKLAND RACE.

Takes Out Fifteen Thousand of Book makers' Money-Terry McGovern Will Go to London-Another Match for "Young Corbett."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb, 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charley Clark, son of the Montana Senator, made the biggest individual clean-up of the racing season at Oakland, this afternoon, by taking out of the ring over $15,000 on Diderot in the last event. All bookmakers were losers up to the sixth race, and there was a general desire to recoup by 'killing the favorite,' so that when Clark's commissioner went down the line nearly every penciler took $1000 or $500.

The price of Diderot fell under heavy play from evens to 11 to 20, but Clark had placed fully $20,000 and his horse came home with the money. Clark had been a heavy loser the day before on Evander.

CUTTING AFFRAY IN FILLMORE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA PAULA, Feb. 4.—News comes

is greatly excited.

Miller and Burson were neighbors, and the trouble has been brewing for some time. It appears that some of Miller's cattle strayed upon the property of Burson and did damage, and the former did not reimburse Miller or abste the nuisance.

Last evening the men came face to face in front of the postoffice and anyry words passed. Burson is said to have struck Miller, or at him, when the latter drew a knife and began slashing. The point of the blade caught Burson behind one ear and tore a deep gash under the jaw clear to the point of the chin. Witnesses to the fracas then rushed in and separated the men. Burson was conveyed to his home and his wounds, which were not at first considered dangerous, attended to.

Miller disappeared immediately, and finding the feeling against him so strong as to make his remaining dangerous, came here and put himself under the protection of the authorities. Later he returned to Fillmore in company with Constable Dorn, though not under arrest. From there he proceeded to Ventura and gave himself up, and was promptly released on bail, pending the result of Burson's injuries. This evening Burson is reported to be doing well, though the extent of the wound has not been definitely ascertained. It is considered unlikely that Miller will be prosecuted.

"MARTIN" SEEN IN HARBOR TOWN MONDAY FORENOON.

Recognized by Persons Who Knew Him and are Positive-Supposed to Have Sailed or One of Four Ships for the North.

"Martin," or Cox, accused of the aldeous crime that ended the life of Broker James P. Sowards was in San Pedro Monday. The Times report to that effect yesterday has been configured. Whether he took passage from that port for the north on any vessel leaving that day has not been established, though it was the natural course for him to pursue. Of course his name does not appear among the his name does not appear among the passenger lists.

nized him as "Handsome Harry," who used to wield scissors and razor in the harbor town.

An incident aboard Duffy's ferry-boat, shortly before noon of the daymentioned, 'fixed the fact of the alleged murderer's visit in the memories of several persons. Three men, two partially under the influence of liquor, tried to beat their way across the bay, on the pretense that they had arrived in San Pedro over the Sait Lake route that morning, and had ferry tickets in their posession. It was explained that the tickets were overtime, and they finally consented to pay their fare. One of the men was undoubtedly "Martin." Stanley Ohler, local agent for the Los Angeles and San Francisco Steamship Company, is positive "Martin" was one of the party. The description corresponds exactly, and Ohler knows "Martin."

"Martin" was in San Pedro Thursday, the day previous to the foul crime. He was accompanied by a man named John Koch, who is employed by J. Jaeger, dealer in barber supplies, at Nos. 250-252 South Main street. He called at the tonsorial pariors of Harry Russell, on Sixth street, where he worked two months ago. He claimed that he was selling cash registers, but did very little canvassing. To John V. Bettis, a barber in Russell's shop, "Martin" said he was only making a pretense at selling cash registers, and that he had a number of "fake" dress patterns, which he proposed to sell to women.

It cannot be ascertained whether the three men seen in Duffy's ferry-boat boarded the Lakime. But a partial list of the passengers is on record in San Pedro. "Martin" would certainly be under an assumed name.

Lenning was employed as a presser at the Southern California Dye Works, No. 646 South Main street, and yesterday he was given a suit belonging to a man named McGrogan, who is the very careless owner of valuable jewelry. Nestled away in the blothing the boy came upon a large and darsling white diamond stud, which looked too fabulously good to release.

McGrogan discovered his loss and visited the place to attempt a recovery, but the boy disclaimed having seen the gem. The loser then called up a detective, who went to the dye works and made another futile attempt to get the stone or any clew to its whereabouts. The boy was suspected and watched, however, and in the evening the officer caught him in the act of trying to sell the diamond in Main-street pawnshops. He was arrested and will be prosecuted.

Coldest Weather Ever Heard of On the Island in That Particular Spot, While Hormal Elsewhere—Woman on AVALON, Feb. 4.—Will someone rise and explain the weather phenomenon which crops up on Santa Catalina Island? The thermometer at Avalon early yesterday morning marked, 48 deg. A telephone message to Empire brought the response that no frost was yisible there; at Middle ranch it was reported that the North Pole had been moved there, and that the horns had been frozen off the brass monkey. Later in the day F. H. Lowe came down to Avalon, and said he had never before in California encountered so great a degree of cold. The ground was frozen to such an extent that a team of horses and heavy wagon made no impression upon it, leaving no track in passing, and little ponds of water left by the rains of the day previous were frozen over. As late as 8 o'clock lice re-formed on these little pools when broken. Mr. Lowe's horse skated over the ity roads just as they are wont to do up in the Dakotas, and it was not until the summit was reached and he was descending this side that the ice disappeared.

Middle ranch is three miles from Little Harbor, on the southerly coast of the island, and there, it is said, as at Avalop, no touch of frost has everbeen discovered. What's the matter with Middle ranch?

DARING WOMAN.

Just as the steamer was preparing to leave yesterday afternoon the passengers and persons on the wharf had their attention called to a woman attempting to scale the rocky cliff at the easterly point of the bay. She was thirty or forty feet up the precipitous side of the hill and was slowly mounting, when it was seen that she could go no further. The watchers held their breath as she made her way across the face of the cliff on a narrow ledge, expecting every moment to see her dashed to certain death at the bottom. It was at the identical polifit where the father of E. J. Whitney, two years since, fell to his death in an attempt to climb to the trail on the bliff, having been caught out at the point by the rising tide.

Several boatmen went to her rescue, but the young woman seenged to have a charmed life, and hav

Thousand Tons on Its Books—Employees Taking Stock.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—A meeting of the directors of the United States Steel Corporation was held here yesterday. At its close, Judge Gary, chairman, gave out a statement, in which he said that the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation at the present time have orders an their books for over 5,600,000 tons, which is the largest unfilled booking that they have ever had.

The books for subscriptions to stock, under the profit-sharing plan, closed on Saturday evening, January 31. Judge Gary's statement says that 75,635 men subscribed for 61 125 shares. Class.

Many of the weaves which have been so popular this season will be still in favor next, but as we have only so much room to show our goods and carry full stocks for each season, we must reduce winter lines as rapidly as possible, for the spring and summer goods will soon be coming in; in fact, some of them have already appeared. As we give no discounts to any one our regular prices are lower than elsewhere, and the additional cut in prices makes it an economical proposition to you.

WHICH WILL MAKE ANY ONE GRACE-

By W. R. C. Latson, M.D.

Pullior Health Culture Marasine. New York)
YVERBODY admires grace, and confessedly or not, everybody at heart, desires to be graceful. But few, even among those who appreciate grace most fully, realise what constitutes grace or the many advantages it brings. Few realise that grace may be acquired by anyone who is willing to pay the price in the form of proper physical exercise practiced with perseverance and regularity.

In this paper we shall consider the following points: First, what is grace—that is, what is its essential character? Becond, what are the advantages of grace? Third, by what practical means may one become graceful?

ADOLF FRESE,

EASE IMPARTED BY GRACE.

Another advantage of grace, and one which has seldom received attention, is the personal sense of ease, comfort and power which it confers upon its possessor. The awkward man or woman is never comfortable. He wriggles on his seat he thrusts his feet far out, then twists them under his chair. Before an audience or in a dining-room it becomes a formidable roollem to decide as to the disposal of his hands. Many unfortunate people have become so accustomed to these discomforts as to think them a necessary condition of their lives. Only EASE IMPARTED BY GRACE.

beyond the minimum required, the excess is wasted. This brings us to the greatest advantage of grace, and one which, so far as the writer is aware, has not hitherto been mentioned. Grace means economy of force 'in movement—movement with the least possible outlay of vitality.

This implies an economy which is enormous—an economy which is one of the prime secrets of endurance, health and longevity. Any adult who relsome or anxious can be truly graceful. Intense manual states, anger, envy, revenge, fear and so on, all occasion mage or less muscular tension. This muscular tension means fixation of the joints and infexibility of the entire body. A habitual mental attitude of cammesa, unselfashness, loving kindness and confluence would in time engender grace, even in one who was originally awkward. Notable examples of this are the Hindu philosophers who have visited this country within the past few years.

"EASE AND BALANCE."
So much for the mental attitude. The in addition to the practice of the exercises given herewith the student should keep those two thoughts always in mind-always, that is, until the habit becomes fixed. Then, all at once, for the first time, perhaps, in her life, she will find that ahe is able to forget herself. Before this stage is arrived at, however a certain period of that man or woman who has known both the discomforts of self-consciousness and Grill must be scious awkwardness and the happiness of confident, easy grace, can appreciate the force of this advantage of grace—comfort. But, let it be stated again, to one who is willing to work along proper lines, grace and its rewards can oc acquired in almost every case.

Other advantages of grace are attractiveness and power of expression. Since the connection of these with grace, will be readily acknowledged, we will pass on to the practical aspect of the subject.

MIND MUST BE TRANGVILL. The object of this expresses to be acquired may be divided into two classes—mental and physical. Locally and gractically the neutral methods.

learn to foug as it is done easily. To learn to move with the least possible outlay of strength—that is the object of this exercise and of all that follow. Exercise No. 2.—Stand easily, feet well apart, arms hanging. Now turn the body as a pivot from side to side, allowing the arms to swing freely in a wide circle, coming against the body at the completion of each turn. Keep this up for some time, trying always to make the movement with less and least effort. Gradually allow the movement is become more free until the weight of the body is swing around upon the foot toward which you are turning, always, of course, bearing in mind that the object of the exercise is to reduce effort. (See Fig. 2.)
